Because of industrial actions

over the last few months the companies manufacturing the auto parts have reduced production and supply of parts, lowering both demand and the prices of many products in the automotive industry. A lack of demand for these auto parts has resulted in supply shortages, which have forced automobile manufacturers to take inventory and move some of their production to other facilities.

Although many make and sell fewer cars these days, the industry is now larger than it has ever been, and with 13 million cars made in 2014, 11 million in 2015, and more on the way. This industry is a very, very big business, but has yet to see an upswing in sales.
