Michael Balsamo - Niagara Falls, New York, USA April 16, 1997, 10:05 PM NY Daily News Investigators searching for an extortion "kingpin" who was linked to a prostitution ring turned up a familiar face -- a Niagara Falls woman who has been jailed before for prostitution and who is the mother of a convicted killer. Investigators said Thursday they were convinced they had located the figureheads of the prostitution ring and were ready to seize the $25-million-a-year illicit business. The man -- an associate of the "kingpin" named in court papers as Michael Balsamo -- was identified as a Niagara Falls woman described as the secretary or bookkeeper for Balsamo. Attorney General Dennis Vacco and Niagara County Sheriff Patrick Verdecchia called for the woman to surrender at the conclusion of a news conference Thursday. But at her home on the North Tonawanda Parkway, the woman said she was the victim of a publicity stunt. She said she was an informant for Vacco and had never been involved in illegal activity. "I am not part of any prostitution ring," she said. "I am here because Vacco is going public on me because he is embarrassed by the fact that
